ABOUT

Samuel Isaac Penn is a singer/songwriter hailing from Huntsville, AL, bent on reviving the North Alabama sound that once filled the airwaves of the world. His music is a genre-bending fusion of gospel, Americana, and Southern rock, with improvisational jams that weave each song into the next. Think The Allman Brothers and Grateful Dead meet J.J. Cale and John Prine. Whether performing solo or with his band, Penn brings a Southern-fried groove to every stage he steps on.
